REPUBLICANS OPTIMISTIC

Result of Yesterday's Election Presages Hard Fight Next Year

DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL

Returns Said to Mean Elihu Root Cannot be Republican Nominee for President in 1916

Hard and bitter fighting ahead for 1916 is presaged by the results of the elections in a number of States yesterday.

The Republican leaders are jubilant and are already predicting the election of a Republican President next year.

Democratic leaders insist that only careful analysis of the completed returns will be of value and, what is to them much more satisfying, hold that Woodrow Wilson next year will prove so much stronger than his party as to make the election results of this year of little worth as a barometer for 1916.

On the whole, the election results have to be considered on th basis of whether the Republican gains will prove sufficient strong not merely to overcome the Democratic party but to overcome that strength which President Wilson's friends say he has in his own right in excess of his party.

The Republican gain in New York including up-State gains and the election of three Republican Congressmen and a Republican legislature, give grounds for the belief they will be able to carry the Empire State in 1916 and control its huge electoral vote.

The fact that McCall, Republican, has beaten Walsh, Democrat, for governorship in Massachusetts, is a gain for the Republicans.

The election of Harrington, Democrat, as governor of Maryland, is a Democratic victory. The consolation that Republicans derive from it is that Weller, the Republican nominee ran Harrington a close race.

The election of Stanley, Democratic, as governor of Kentucky, despite Republican gains, is a comfort for the Democrats. They do not believe, if Stanley could carry the State even by a small majority, Wilson can lose it next year.

The defeat of the New York constitution is widly interpreted as meaning that Elihu Root cannot be nominated by the Republicans in 1916 On the other hand, the Republican gains in Ohio, following the announcement that Governor Willis will not get in the way of Burton as a Republican Presidential candidate next year are interpreted as strengthening the Burton candidacy.

Republican gains in the House of Representatives will not add to the difficulties of Democratic handling of that body the coming winter.

STRIKE IS AVERTED

Men, However, Still Dissatisfied With Conditions at Steel Plant

Through the efforts of John B. Colpoys and Robert McWade, commissioners of counciliation of the Department of Labor, a threatened strike at the plant of the Washington Steel and Ordnance Company at Giesboro Point has been averted.

Under the department's adjustment the machinists at the plant are to be granted a minimum wage of 50 cents an hour. They are to receive time and a half for work in excess of eight hours. According to the department, "dismissed men will be reinstated individually on signing an agreement to avoid hereafter all agitation in and about the plant."

The threatened strike directly affected 200 and indirectly affected 1,400 employes of the company. Employes of the plant still are dissatisfied with certain conditions, according to officials of the union. They desire the elimination of alleged unsanitary conditions, the installation of safe machinery and the purification of water supply.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE

Irving Haywood Cuts Throat and Wrist in Old City Hotel Today.

Irving Haywood, a well known young man, 31 years old, attempted suicide in the City Hotel building at the cornor of Cameron and Royal street at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The man has been employed at the Firth streel plant at Giesboro Point and recently has made his residence in Washington, as he was employed on a night shift. He came to Alexandria today and went to a room on the fourth floor of the old hotel building occupied by a friend. He stated that he wanted to shave and borrowed a razor. He made a severe gash across his throat and then cut his wrist. Some women in the house bound up his wounds and notified police headquarters. Drs. Walter A. Warfield and Llewellyn Powell attended the man and sewed up his wounds. While his condition is serious it is thought that he will recover.

SET BACK FOR SUFFRAGE

New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Reject Measure by Large Majority

Woman suffrage in all the three States voting on the issue, New York Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania, was defeated by an overwhelming majority in the elections yesterday.

New York votes for women were defeated by approximately 200.000 In Massachusetts suffrage was refeated by about two to one. The result of the Pennsylvania vote was still undertermined at an early hour this morning, but it was considered certain that suffrage was beaten by a safe majority.

Throughout the Eastern States which held elections Republican gains were noted.

Samuel W. McCall, former Representative, Republican, defeated Gov. David I. Walsh, Democrat, in the the gubernatorial race in Massachusetts, by a plurality estimated at about 5,000. The entire Republican State ticket was elected, and the Republican majority in the legislature was increased.

The election of Emerson Harrington, Democratic candidate for governor of Maryland is conceded. Harrington carried the State by at leas 4,000 majority.

New York voted down the new constitution, incomplete returns a midnight showed a majority of about 200,000 against it.

Prohibition was voted down in Ohio by a majority claimed by the "wets" to be between 25,000 and 50,000.

The Republicans made substantia gains in New Jersey, both in the senate and assembly, retaining control of the legislature.

Indications from Kentucky are that A. O. Stanley, the Democratis nominee for governor, won over Edwin P. Morrow by about 10,000 majority.

Theodore C. Bilbo was elected governor of Mississippi by a solid Democratic vote.

VIRGINIA HAS QUIET ELECTION

Prohibition Will Have Over 100 Majority in General Assembly

INTEREST IS SLIGHT

Democrats' Hold on State Unbroken The Socialists Having Been Snowed Under

Richmond, Nov. 3.—No State officers were involved in yesterday's election, at which members of the General Assembly and various county officials were chosen. Interest was lacking except in four or five counties in the State where there was a semblance of a contest for the House of Delegates or the State Senate.

Most of the men elected to the General Assembly are Democrats and "dry," which will give prohibition a majority of from 100 to 120 on joint ballot. The Legislature, which meets in January, will enact laws to govern the State under prohibition, which goes into effect on October 31.

In Richmond, George E. Wise, was elected Commonwealth's Attorney, defeating T. Gray Haddon, by a majority of 582. L. H. Kemp, was elected treasurer of Henrico county without opposition, as were the members of the State Senate and House of Delegates from the city of Richmond and from Henrico county.

Deplte a strenuous campaign for county and district offices in Campbell county, the Socialistic candidates were overwhelmed, Russell, Democrat defeating Steele, Socialist, for the House of Delegates by 943 majority.

Senator W. A. Garrett, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, was re-elected from the Twenty-fourth district over P. R. Wray, Independent, his majority being about 10 to 1.

Senator George T. Rison, of the Twenty-third district, and N. E. Clement, R. L. Dodson, and Berryman Green, Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates from Danville and Pittsylvania county, defeated Socialist opponents, their majority being from 800 to 1,000.

M. K. Lowry, Republican, defeated W. D. Peyton, Democrat, for the House from King George and Stafford counties by a majority of less than 100.

In the Fourth Senatorial district W. L. Andrews, Democrat, was re-elected defeating W. N. Doak, Republican, by a large majority.

Winchester, Nov. 3.—Henry Flood Byrd, Democrat, son of United States District Attorney Richard Evelyn Byrd, and publisher of Winchester Star, was elected to the State Senate yesterday, from Winchester and Frederick and Shenandoah counties. His majority is about 700 over his Republican opponent, J. S. Haldeman of Frederick. John M. Steck, Democrat, was re-elected to House of Delegates from Winchester and Frederick county by over 1,000 majority. He was opposed by Hugh O. Pierce, Independent, and John D. Bowman, Socialist.

Lynchburg, Nov. 3.—With 17 of the 21 precincts reported, the election in Campbell county yesterday resulted in the overwhelming defeat of the Socialists despite their strenuous campaign. Due to the failure of Brookenbrough for clerk of the Road Board in Brookville district to get his name on the official ballot, Thompson, the Socialist candidate, was elected by 10 majority; Russell, Democrat for the House, defeated Steele, Socialist, by 564 majority and Callahan, Democrat, for county treasurer won over Pierce, Socialist, by 943 majority

Walter E. Addison, Democratic candidate for the Senate from the district composed of Lynchburg and Campbell county, was unopposed.

With practically no opposition to the Democratic nominee in the city, hardly a third of the vote was polled J. C. Moss, for the House of Delegates, received 564 votes to W. L. Gibson's (Socialist) 50.

Fredericksburg, Nov. 3.—C. O'Connor Goolrick, Democrat, was elected yesterday by a good majority to the State Senate from the district composed of Stafford, Spotsylvania and Louisa counties and the city of Fredericksburg, over F. L. W. Green, Independent.

Granville R. Swift, Democrat, for House of Delegates from Spotsylvania county and Fredericksburg, is 80 votes ahead of Robert L. Jaynes, Independent, with five precincts out. Whit D. Peyton, Democrat, for House of Delegates from Stafford and King George counties, is ahead of M. J. Lowry, Independent, with several precincts to hear from. G. B. Wallace, Democrat, was elected Commonwealth Attorney of Stafford county over Benjamin Purvis, Independent. W. T. Reamy, Democrat, was elected Treasurer over Newton, Independent.

Luray, Nov. 3.—Col. R. L. Leedy, Democrat, was elected to the House of Delegates from Page and Rappahannock counties by about 200 majority over Lewis Willis, H. H. Downing was unopposed for the State Senate.

W. F. Keyser, Commonwealth's Attorney: F. T. Amiss, treasurer; N. T. Sedwick, Sheriff; and F. S. Kibler, Commissioner of the Revenue, were re-elected.

Warrenton, Nov. 3.—Returns from nearly all 199 precincts in Fauquier give W. N. Tiffany, Democrat, a big majority over James R. Carter, Independent, for the House of Delegates. T. C. Pilcher, for the State Senate, is elected without opposition.

Norfolk, Nov. 3.—Portsmouth yesterday adopted the city manager plan of municipal government. The vote was 1,095 for and 300 votes against it. As only 963 votes were needed to have a majority of the registered electorate, it means the adoption of the new form of government and a new charter to be submitted to the Legislature in January.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 3—Straightout Democrats elected their candidates for the House and Senate, captured the county offices contested and won four out of the six places on the county board of supervisors in today's election, which marked the culmination of their long and bitterly-fought battles against fusionism.

The ticket was unusually lengthy containing the legislative candidates the county officers and candidates for magisterial district positions. The vote was heavy and the count slow consequently it was after midnight before the result was known.

With two precincts missing, returns from which will not change the results materially, these results are shown:

For State Senate from the Portsmouth-Norfolk County district—W. C. Corbitt, straightout, defeating Harry L. Alexander.

For the House of Delegates—Channing Hall and Q. C. Davis, straightouts, defeating L. C. Page and H. A. Cason. Fusionists.

Mr. Axling said the so-called "Japanese peril" exists largely in the minds of jingoistic journalists in the United States and Japan. He quoted Premier Okuma as saying:

"A serious conflict between Japan and the United States is unthinkable."

The recent Japanese activities in China. Mr. Axling characterized as an effort to establish an "Oriental Monroe Doctrine."

DRIVE SERBS FROM RAILWAY CENTRE

Germans Capture Cacak and Gain Pass Through Mountains

SERBS WIN ON NORTH

Allies Send New Armies to be Landed at Port of Kavala, Greece, to Aid Little Nation

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Cacak, an important railroad junction point in Servia about 30 miles to the southwest of Kraguyevatse, has been occupied by the Teutonic forces, engaged in the Servian invasion, it is officially announced in a communication as follows:

"North and northeast of Cacak, we conquered an exit from the mountainous country south of Milmovac into the valley of the Western Golijska Morava. Cacak, has been occupied by our troops. The heights south of Kraguyevatse have been captured on both sides of the Morava. The general line of Despetovac— Bagardar has been crossed.

"The army of General Boyadjieff (Bulgarian) on October 31 captured the Bactian Hills, west of Sladna, on the Kniajevats-Sokobanja, high road as well as the hills on both sides of Turaja, east of Svrijlg, and crossed the Vrandol near Palanka."

A correspondent of The Berliner Tageblatt in Greece is quoted as declaring that prominent Greeks are exercised over the possibility that the Entente allies intend to occupy Kavala and that the Greeks are increasingly resentful regarding the attitude of the British and French in Saloniki which is declared to be non-forceful causing a belief that the stay of the Anglo-French forces in Saloniki will be permanent.

The Tageblatt declares that excitement in the Greek army over conditions at Saloniki is increasing, and also reports that there has been a new incident on the Servian front indicating the tension between the Greek and foreign forces, it being declared that Greek troops fired on a French contingent that was retreating to Greek territory before a Bulgarian attack.

Paris, Nov. 3.—Repulse of the Austro-German forces in the centre of the northern line, with great losses, is reported in an official Servian communication received here. It follows:

"On October 29, or the northwestern front, the enemy attacked in force on the right bank of the Penitza, and with less strength on the right bank of the Morava. In the centre, the enemy was thrown back, with great losses, after having approached within 500 metres of the Servian positions On the remainder of the front there were severe engagements.

On the eastern (Bulgarian) front there was no important change south of the Morava. Toward Pirot fighting is continuous, as is also the case to the west of Zajecar."

The following statement from the Montenegrin War Office, under today's date, was received here this afternoon."

"On October 31 fighting continued south of Vishegrad, Bosnia. An energetic attack of the enemy was countered successfully. On the remainder of the front we have kept up a constant fire on the enemy's positions. At Hagora we captured 100 men, of whom one was an officer, four guns and one rapid firer. The Austrians left about 409 dead or wounded on the ground, as well as artillery ammunition."

KILLED BY ELECTRIC CAR.

Parkersburg Man Is Struck Riding Bicycle Across Tracks.

Parkersburg, Nov. 3. — Riding a bicycle across the tracks of the Kanawha Traction and Electric Company at Redwood, north of this city, yesterday, Joseph H. Ruttencutter was struck and killed. Although he was one of the best known residents of this city, his body was not identified for several hours.

INTERESTING SERMON.

Rev. O. W. Triplett Occupies Pulpit at Union Services Last Night.

Rev. O. W. Triplett, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, delivered a forceful sermon last night at the union services now in progress at the First Baptist Church. He took his text from Col. III., 11—"Christ is all and in all."

The speaker held the close attention of his hearers from the beginning to the end of his discourse. During his sermon he told a pathetic anecdote, laying the scene on a Mississippi steamboat shortly after the close of the civil war. While not original to a few of his hearers, it was to the bulk of his congregation, as it will be to the great majority of the readers of the Gazette. As first told the scene was placed on the old steamer, Arrow, which about forty years ago ran on the route between Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon. The boat was commanded by the genial Frank Hollingshead, long since deceased. We shall tell it with its local surroundings.

Shortly after the close of the civil war, a former Federal soldier who was visiting spots in this section of the country which he had traversed several years before was on the steamer Arrow on his way from Mt. Vernon. Around him was seated several men, some of whom was ex-federal soldiers whom he was entertaining with his experience while a wearer of the blue. Among other things he told of the dangers of picket duty on the Chickahominy, in war times. He said night after night pickets were killed while on posts of duty by the Confederates who managed to creep within shooting distance. One night when it was his turn to do duty as a picket he was stationed alone at a frontier post with nothing but owls to keep him company. Every time he trod upon a twig and heard it break under his weight he imagined it was the snap of a rifle of a sharp shooter. He never was so scared in his life, and while he walked the lonesome beat he sang snatches of that immortal hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The lines "Cover my defenseless head with the shadow of thy wing," appealed to him more powerfully than they ever had before. In fact he hummed the hymn throughout the night. To his great relief not a shot was fired at him.

A man with a dark complexion and a serious mein (not one of the party) had been a close listener to the recital of the ex-Union soldier. When the latter had finished his story the ex-Confederate soldier, (for such he was), drew near and said; "Gentlemen, with your permission, I would like to add the second volume to our friend's story. During the time referred to by him shooting of pickets was carried on extensively, on the Chickahominy. I remember one night after several southern soldiers had been shot by Federal sharpshooters, while acting as pickets, at isolated points, I was put on duty at a spot where I was satisfied I could drop several lonely federals before day break. I crept close to one that I saw was almost scared to death, had cocked my gun and had taken aim with the firm intention of killing him. As I was about to pull the trigger, I heard the soft strains of a hymn familiar to my childhood. I distinctly heard the words, "Cover my defensless head with the shadow of thy wing," and fell into reverie. I thought here is a defensless man alone, trembling with fear and praying to his Maker, to save him from the death I had planned. I asked myself the question, Will the killing of this man end this fratricidal war. I realized it would not, and lowering the hammer of my gun crept away as stealthily as I had approached the lone sentinel. The southerner then advanced to the northern man and said, "My good friend, I thank God, that He heard your prayer and prevented me from committing murder which many on both sides believed picket shooting to be."

The scene which followed was interesting, and although the party was small, there never was a more sincere mingling of the blue and the gray.

Members of the Bible classes of the different churches attended the services.

GERMANS MOVE NEARER TO RIGA

Progress Toward Baltic Port Made in Attack From the West

FIGHTING IS FIERCE

Teutons Report Recapturing Trenches by Counter Attacks, and Taking 2,600 Prisoners

Berlin, Nov. 3—The German advance on Riga from the west has made further progress, the War Office announces. In the Dvinsk region, fierce fighting is under way. The Russians, undertaking a strong offensive movement, were repulsed with heavy losses. The announcement follows.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg: South of the Tukum-Riga Railway our attack made further progress on both sides of the river.

"Before Dvinsk, fierce fighting continued Monday. Strong Russian attacks were repulsed with severe losses. The battles between Swneton and Ilsn Lakes are still proceeding. Five hundred prisoners fell into our hands.

"Army group of Prince Leopold: There is nothing new to report.

"Army group of General von Linsingen: The Russians attempted to halt our advance west of Czartorysk by a counter-attack on a wide front, with dense masses of troops. They were driven back with heavy losses. Our attack continues.

"At Sienikowce, the Russians succeeded in temporarily penetrating positions held by the troops of General von Bothmer. We recaptured our trenches by a counter-attack, and took more than 600 prisoners. The village of Sienikowce itself was for the greater part recaptured by storm early yesterday morning, after bitter fighting during the night, and 2000 more prisoners were taken.

JAPAN NOT TO SEND TROOPS

Will Assist Entente Allies as Far as The She Can However

Paris, Nov. 3—While Japan will be unable to send troops to the European theatre of war, she will gladly assist the entente allies as far as she can financially and lend them the support of her arsenals, according to Count Okuma, the premier, who was interviewed at Tokyo by a correspondent.

"There was talk last November of Japanese forces fighting in Europe," Count Okuma is reported to have said. "To have done that we should have had to send 400,000 men, expecting to lose 200,000 of them and replace them with 200,000 more.

"We have not the necessary transports, for we should have wanted 2,000,000 tons of shipping, and our commercial fleet aggregates only 1,000 000. In the fac of these figures, Great Britain and France understand the impossibility of the operation.

"Our sympathies being as strong as ever, we should wish to give France our financial support at least and thus perhaps hasten the end of the war. Japan is not a great financial power, but we have certain resources. We have just covered twice over a government loan of 30,000,000 yen (315,000,000) and that probably would make the issue of a second loan difficult, but to prove our sympathy for France we should be happy to give our aid, however modest.

"The impossibility of sending troop westward does not prevent us from giving the allies naval and military support. Our arsenals are mobilized as in time of war. We play also the role of sentinel in the Far East, preventing our enemies from fomenting revolt among the warlike Mussulmen people, who might be tempted to profit from your difficulties.

"We also are doing everything necessary to guard against damage to the trans-Siberian railway whereby our supplies reach Russia. The principle back of all Japanese action is that while our allies are fighting we shall not allow them to be attacked from behind."

CITY AND COUNTY VOTE

William H. Duncan, incumbent, commissioner of revenue, by a vote of 880 to 626 defeated A. H. Barbor, formerly sheriff.

PICK THE FLINT AND TRY AGAIN

Woman suffrage received a decided set back in the elections yesterday. The measure was effectually snowed under in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. The champions of the cause, however, are not in storm cellars, but are still optimistic and believe eventually that the world will understand the righteousness of their cause. It was regarded as a good omen a few weeks ago when Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States voted an open ticket for woman suffrage, but the example of the executive did not cause the stampede expected.

During the past third or more of a century arguments for allowing women the privilege to vote have been heard from Dan to Beersheba. It is allowed in some states and those favoring the propaganda often refer to the fact that public affairs in such commonwealths are not disturbed by the existing order of things.

The principal argument those opposed to suffrage urge is that woman should keep aloof from the madding crowd and turmoils incident to politics in which only the masculine gender should participate. In the language of Cardinal Gibbons, she is a queen.

Mrs. B. B. Valentine president of the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia, said last night in Richmond that continued efforts for the enfranchisement of women in Virginia would be made, and that the work of procuring signatures to the petition to be presented to the Legislature in favor of having the question submitted to the people would be continued.

Miss Adele Clarke, secretary of the Richmond League, said that the results in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania would not directly affect the movement in Virginia, and that it would in nowise retard the effort. She pointed to the fact that many Virginians, students in Columbia University and others, aided in the work in New York, and that they reflected a general attitude in Virginia. She said that a phenomenal number of people had signed the petition for submission of the question to the people at the street meetings, and believed that a sufficient number of signatures would be procured.

HAPPINESS IN THE HOME

Quoting the obviously humorously intended paragraph, "if you can't be pleasant, stay at home" from the Waycross Journal, the Macon News enters its emphatic dissent from such advice. It suggests as substitute advice, "If you can't be pleasant leave home."

The Danville Register in referring to the above says:

We are inclined to think that the News' amendment or substitute is wise, for the first obligation of every wife or husband is to be pleasant at home. Yet how often do we know men who are good fellows on the street and in their business relations, men who are welcomed in every group, who yet doff their amiability and pleasant ways and manners so soon as they enter the portals of their own home. They seem to fancy that in order to impress wife and children with their authority, they must be cross, arbitrary, disagreeable, fault-finding. The happiness of many a home is wrecked by just such folly, often the result of thoughtless grown into a habit. Who of us does not know some husband and father whose presence at home is dreaded, all because of his habit of being disagreeable at home? Policy and business interest impel him to be affable, amiable and entertaining during the day and he conceals his troubles then, only to air them and yield to his irritable or cross mood at home.

Unfortunate indeed is the home wherein the wife or the children or both secretly dread or chafe under the constraint of the presence of husband or father. In the ideal home the man should be welcomed by them all. If he is to win and retain their confidence and make them happy, he must be companionable and agreeable when with them. It is a better habit to leave one's business cares at the store, factory or office, and to seek respite from them and happiness and peace and restfulness at home. Only a little forethought and an act of the will are required to do this. True living may be characterized as the wise quest for happiness, and it may be well to remark that we are largely the makers of our own unhappiness or misery. Cheerfulness and amiability within the portals of home will make that home thrice blessed and happy. The experience of mankind and the wisdom of the sages concur in the dictum that making others happier is the best assurance of happiness for ourselves. Happiness is a reflex attitude, springing from unselfishness and self-control.

STORY WITH A MORAL

Teh Norfolk Virginian-Pilot says:

The vials of adulation which some of our brethren of the press are emptying upon the already swollen head of Bryan, the peerless, apparently contain an inexhaustible supply of double-distilled essence of fulsome flattery. The tributes of praise showered upon him by these willing captives to his sonorous platitudes call to mind the story of how the colored preacher at Nola Chucky introduced to his sable congregation a visiting bishop, who came to deliver a sermon on foreign missions and incidentally to take up a collection to renumerate his services in the good cause.

"Brethrin and Sisterin", said the worshipful deacon, "dis famous bishop is de greatest bishop in the world. He knows the unknowable, he can do de undoable, and he can unscrew the unscrutable. Pray for him—and den pay for him."

RAILROADS SHOW SENSE.

The American Traffic Association whose convention at French Lick, Indiana, attracted transportation officials from all parts of the country, announces an important change, which savors of common sense. The railway in the earlier days of the business used to advertise train arrivals and departures. But as the systems increased the tables became so complex and the changes so numerous that newspaper advertising was found inconvenient. Besides, it was costly, and so the practice was abandoned in most of the larger cities Travelers were informed of extraordinary changes in time by means of newspapers, but for ordinary convenience they had to look to the companies' folders. Now the old custom is to be revived and the newspapers are again to be employed to keep the public informed.

The payment of omitted taxes on the estate of the late Alexander Cameron, of Richmond, will probably be made this week and, it is understood, will represent the largest amount ever paid in Virginia in omitted taxes, the figures being estimated at something in excess of $100,000. This total includes the taxes due by the estate to the State and to the county of Orange, and is payment on approximately $6,000,000 of omitted property. The taxes on the Thomas F. Ryan estate, which is in Nelson county, will overshadow in magnitude those assessed against any other individual or estate within the confines of Virginia, but these taxes will probably not be paid into the coffers of the State before the Cameron taxes are received.

Plenty More Like This in Alexandria.

Scores of Alexandria people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

W. Dawson, blacksmith, 409 N. West St., Alexandria, says: "My back was so weak and sore that I could hardly pick anything off the floor. I couldn't straighten up without taking hold of something and it nearly killed me to get up in the morning. Sharp shooting pains caught me in the small of my back and I thought I would have to give up. Finally I started using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from C. W. Sumer.' Drug Store, and the first few doses convinced me that they were the medicine I needed. After finishing one box, my back felt so strong that I could work all day and not feel any the worse for it. Now, I take Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as my kidneys get a little bit out of order, for I know there isn't anything their equal.

CARLIN AT FREDERICKSBURG.

Alexandria Congressman Delivers Stirring Address Monday Night.

The campaign closed in Fredericksburg, Monday night, when Hon. Chas. C. Carlin, of Alexandria, who represents the Eighth District, in Congress, addressed the voters of the city at the courthouse in the interest of the Democratic party. The courthouse was well filled and a number of ladies were in the audience.

Mr. A. P. Rowe, chairman of the Democratic party of the city, called the meeting to order and presented Senator C. O'Conor Goolrick, who in turn introduced Congressman Carlin.

Mr. Carlin said it was great pleasure for him to be present before a Fredericksburg audience and he especially was glad to see ladies present; there seemed a strong inclination on the part of the ladies to break into politics lately; they were asking for equal rights and he had been married long enough to know that they already had equal rights, but if they got into politics they would find that many cruel and spiteful things are done. Mr. Carlin said he desired to arouse the Democrats to their duty. This is a government by party and if there was ever a time that Virginians should be proud they were Democrats it was the present. He reviewed the important positions held by Virginians in the Federal government and the great work done by them during the present administration. Virginia, he said, is at the forefront, it it did take it fifty years to get there, and it is the duty of Democrats to uphold the president and the administration and stand by Democratic nominees. He spoke of the world war and the skillful diplomacy of President Wilson in guiding the destinies of this nation in peaceful waters while other nations were bathed in blood and tears. The Congressman told of the advance of education in Virginia under Democratic rule, of the Confederate pensions paid by the State and the clean administration of its financial affairs by the Democratic party. He paid his respects in sarcastic terms to the Independentcan didates and spoke in a very complimentary way of Senator Goolrick and Mr. Swift, the Democratic candidates for the Senate and House of Delegates.

Mr. Carlin held the close attention of the audience for over one hour and he was loudly applauded.

Congressman Carlin made a number of friends by his visit to Fredericksburg. During the brief interval between the close of the meeting and train time he was entertained by a number of his friends.

STEAMER WRECKED

Fifteen of Passenger and Crew Known to Have Been Lost.

Marshfield, Oreg., Nov. 3.—The North Pacific Steamship Company's passenger steamer Santa Clara, plying between Portland and San Francisco, was wrecked late yesterday on the South Jetty of Coos Bay, 170 miles south of Astoria, Oreg., and it is known that at least 15 of the 48 passengers and crew of 24 have been lost. Several women and children were aboard, but their fate was unknown.

Among the dead is Capt. Gus Lofsted, of the Santa Clara.

The vessel struck on the jetty in heavy weather in a dangerous position and soon afterward the lifeboats were lowered. Half an hour later the vessel was reported a total wreck.

Aid was rushed from Marshfield and other Coos Bay points, but rescue work was difficult, despite moderating winds.

The passengers included a number of Oregon and Washington people and several from California. The Santa Clara left Porland Monday morning.

Miss Alice Church, of Marshfield, who was among the rescued, reached here last night.

"I was put into the first lifeboat, with about twenty others," she said, "but we had not gone far before the boat was swamped, I did not see any of the others after that."

Miss Church was picked up on the beach.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength.

If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.
